Contemporary International Relations of the Caribbean

edited by Basil A. Ince

This timely volume treats topics of increasing importance in the region. All sixteen articles have been written by nationals of the region, thus presenting an unofficial but authoritative view of the thoughts of Caribbean scholars on international issues. Some of the issues treated are:

Nationalization of multinationals; the Economic Development of the Region; Non-alignment; The Racial Factor in Caribbean Foreign Policy; The Caribbean and Latin America and the Caribbean and the Third World. These topics fall into the four parts of the book, namely, The Caribbean and the Third World; Political Processes and Foreign Policy; Metropolitan Ties and Influences; and Economic Development and Integration.

Contributors to this volume include Vaughan Lewis, Loxley Edmonson, Maurice Odle, Clive Thomas, Courtenay Blackman and Jean Crusol.

THE CARIBBEAN REVIEW AWARD

We are pleased to announce the winner of the first annual Caribbean Review Award, an annual award to honor an individual who has contributed to the advancement of Caribbean intellectual life.

The recipient of the award is Gordon K. Lewis.

The breadth and seriousness of Gordon K. Lewis's scholarship articulate the worthiness of his selection. He is the author of Puerto Rico: Freedom and Power in the Caribbean (1963), The Growth of the Modern West Indies (1968), The Virgin Islands: A Caribbean Lilliput (1972), Notes on the Puerto Rican Revolution (1974), Slavery, Imperialism and Freedom - Essays in English Radical Thought (1978), Gather With the Saints at the River (1979), and Main Currents in Caribbean Thought - the Historical Evolution of Caribbean Society in its Ideological Aspects (In Press).

The Award Committee consisted of Lambros Comitas (Chairman), Columbia University, New York; Orlando Alborno, Universidad Central, Venezuela; Frank Manning, University of Western Ontario, Canada; Locksley Edmondson, University of the West Indies, Jamaica; Anthony P. Maingot, Florida International University, Miami, Florida.

Nominations for the second annual Caribbean Review Award — to be presented at the Sixth Annual Meeting of the Caribbean Studies Association in the Virgin Islands, Spring 1980 — should be sent to the Editor, Caribbean Review, Florida International University, Miami, Florida 33199.

The award recognizes individual effort irrespective of field, ideology, national origin, or place of residence.
